A NEW DYNASTY OF CHINESE DINING AT JW MARRIOTT

MAN HO AT JW MARRIOTT LAUNCHES AN EXCITING NEW MENU OF ORIGINAL CHINESE DISHES THAT WILL MAKE A BELIEVER OUT OF THE MOST SELECTIVE SINO-DINING SCEPTIC

STORY: CHRISTOPHER LOMBARDI

Seafood crispy rice with golden broth.

RIGHT Pan-seared fan scallops with shrimp mousse in xo sauce.

Following a recent extensive renovation, JW Marriott's Man Ho Chinese Restaurant has introduced a new menu that builds on China's rich culinary heritage while sailing into uncharted – and utterly delectable – new territory.

The talent and vision which went into creating this culinary curation is newly appointed Man Ho executive Chinese chef Leslie Du, who has redefined traditional cooking techniques of Cantonese cuisine to lend a unique identity to Man Ho Chinese Restaurant. Hailing from the China's Qingdao region, chef Du apprenticed under pioneering Chinese Master chef Jerome Leung, and brings this invaluable knowledge and experience to the table at the hotel's convenient Sukhumvit Soi 2 location.

For those who are not particularly avid fans of Chinese food, the combination of top-tier ingredients and chef Du's innovative approach in creating this new menu will slay any doubts one may have.

Some highlights include Shrimp and Pork Wonton (B420++), served chilled with a tangy Sichuan dressing.

The Shanghai-style Smoked Fish (B690++) features a dramatic display of tableside enfumation, whereby boneless chunks of seasoned Garoupa is presented under a glass cloche. A special culinary wood burner is then used to pump wisps of hickory smoke into the transparent chamber, imparting an intense and distinctive flavour to the tender, herb crusted fish.

The Crispy Duck with Five Spiced Duck Foie Gras (B965++) borrows its consumption protocol from the realm of western fast food. Served with fresh mango and caviar, the ingredients are presented in a charcoal bun, conveniently folded somewhat like a pita bread. You simply grasp, pick up and eat in a technique which is a cross between that used to consume a hamburger and taco. The unique combination of flavours is nothing short of enchanting, and the casual way of tucking in provides a measure of fun the ancient Mandarins could never have imagined. Chinese food was never like this!

Bamboo Fungus with Vegetable and Baby Abalone Soup (B590++) comprises the intriguingly amorphous, lattice-patterned mushroom – also known as bamboo pith – sharing a light chicken broth with a crisp stalk of bok choy and a tender, sweet tasting specimen of the highly-prized shellfish.

Pan-seared Fan Scallops with Shrimp Mousse in XO Sauce (B1,100++/6 pc.) features a slice of fresh lotus root, topped with a premium Australian scallop and encrusted with minced shrimp paste. The firm bite and sweet flavour of the scallop couples beautifully with the seafood mousse, both of which are artfully complemented by the pan-browned lotus root.

The impossibly tender Roast Beef Ribs (B2,300++) simply fork off the bones, with a subtly seasoned Black Pepper Sauce enhancing – without overpowering – the meat's alluringly smoky flavour.

This next dish – Seafood crispy rice with golden broth (B570++) – really impressed, both in its presentation and textural and flavour profile. A bowl of dry, crisped rice grains arrives laden with peeled shrimp and squid, before a thick chicken broth is decanted at-table,

Roast beef ribs with black pepper sauce.

Shanghai smoked fish.

Chilled seafood, pork wonton, Sichuan dressing.

Mango sago, pomelo with mango sorbet.

producing a waft of aromatic steam and rendering the rice-puffs pleasantly firm and chewy.

Dessert is a refreshing and supremely enjoyable Mango Sorbet (B290++) of an unearthly rich texture, garnished with mango sago pearls and pomelo to add a touch of tartness. Highly recommended.

These are just a few of the exciting new dishes on the menu at Man Ho, available from today onwards.

Mom Luang Sarali Kitiyakara represented Her Royal Highness Princess Soamsawali Krom Muen Suddhanarinda recently presided over the annual Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony, organised by Anantara Siam Bangkok Hotel to thank the hotel's loyal clients and friends. This ceremony welcomes the festive season following the traditional festivities for the past 36 years in this hotel.

This year also marks the 12th year that the Christmas Tree Charity Project has run here, in association with our media partners, Numéro Thailand and The Thailanders magazines, various sponsors and the celebrity artists who designed the trees. Each tree was designed under the theme "The Sustainable Christmas Trees", depicting a tree which, when not in use for Christmas, can be recycled and used as a decorative piece or applied as small gifts afterwards. The best decorated Christmas tree, decided by a popular vote, was awarded to the tree of Kanokkun Co., Ltd. designed by Ingkawat Thanonthitphat with the concept of "Sustainable Christmas Tree". The winner went home with HRH Princess Soamsawali, the Princess Suddhanarinda's Trophy.

The Christmas Tree Charity Project showcases the creativity of a number of Thailand's leading interior designers, architects, celebrities and lifestyle artists in decorating the Christmas trees commissioned by select luxury partners. The celebrity artists who have volunteered their time and effort, paired with the charitable corporate sponsors are: Cattleya Thuampratoom with Citibank N.A., P49 Deesign & Associates with Dii Aesthetic Institute, Ingkawat Thanonthitphat with Kanokkun Co., Ltd., Vasu Virajsilp with Italiasia, and the corporate sponsors with trees designed by their in-house artists are : Wine Appreciation by VIOGNIER, Grandwork Interior (Thailand) Co., Ltd., and Anantara Hotels, Resorts & Spas.

The Christmas trees are displayed around Parichart Court, the open-air courtyard at the hotel until 4 January 2020. Proceeds from the funds raised from the sponsors' donations will support the Friends in Need (of "PA") Volunteers Foundation, Thai Red Cross.

New designs for G-Timeless Automatic Line

Gucci has enhanced the G-Timeless Automatic collection with the addition of two new 40mm timepieces. Both models have bracelets and cases crafted in stainless steel, but whilst one has a black guilloché pattern on the dial, the other has one in white guilloché.

The overall design is defined by the House's attention to detail. The knurled decorative technique on the bezel and the small second hand add purity of elegance to the watch. Gucci motifs are included too, with signature symbols like the bee and the feline head used as index markers.

The two new watches feature an Automatic movement, a masterpiece of Swiss craftsmanship, which can be glimpsed through a transparent case back. They are both water-resistant to 50m and are finished with sapphire crystal with an anti-reflective coating.
